IMPACT THE FUTURE

ARELLO has invested substantially in various resources and programs to better equip its members to protect the public interest.

IT'S HARD TO OVERSTATE THE IMPACT THAT ARELLO HAS HAD ON THE REAL ESTATE EDUCATION LANDSCAPE

The Distance Education Certification Program establishes and monitors standards for instructional design and course delivery for real estate distance education courses.

The International Distance Education Certification Center (IDECC) utilizes the Distance Education Certification Program to meet the demand for distance education certification credentials in professions beyond real estate brokerage.

The Education Award annually recognizes excellence and innovation in education efforts.

The Certified Distance Education Instructor (CDEI™) is a credentialing program for individuals who teach distance education courses. This certification is required for all ARELLO and IDECC certified courses.

The Examination Accreditation Program ensures the validity and defensibility of licensing examinations, a critical requirement of regulatory agencies, by providing independent review and evaluation of licensing exams and the methodology used in their development.

The people and jurisdictions that we serve deserve committed advocates. ARELLO provides critical resources that allow our members to administer and enforce real estate license laws in ways that best promote and protect the public interest.

Our License Verification Program provides an instant report on the status of an individual's real estate license in almost every jurisdiction where he/she may hold a real estate license.

The Disciplinary Action Data Bank is an online database of individuals who have, at some point, been the subject of disciplinary action by a real estate licensing agency. This database consolidates disciplinary action by participating real estate regulatory agencies (available for viewing only by regulators).

The Timeshare Registry is a fast, secure, and efficient method for regulatory agencies to process timeshare registration filings entirely online, and at no cost to the agency.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF KEY RESOURCES

ARELLO has invested in centralized information systems and practical compliance tools to support the work of meaningful real estate regulation.

There are so many opportunities to get involved and contribute:

ARELLO manages 20 active Committees, Roundtables and Task Forces, empowering members to bring their expertise and unique perspective to the complicated work of real estate regulation.

The members of the Association's four districts elect their representatives to the Board of the Directors, which is the managing body of the Association that ensures its effective governance.

The Executive Committee manages the affairs of the Association between meetings of the Board.
